Fundamental Freedoms Project via email: pffp@cchrcambodia.org, or to CCHR’s office at: #798, St. 99, P.O. Box 1506, Sangkat Boeung Trabek, Khan Chankar Mon, Phnom Penh. You can also call (+855) 17 50 50 50 or (+855) 23 72 69 01.

Your application will be considered by the Fundamental Freedoms Committee to see if it fulfills CCHR policy criteria, before you receive an answer.

Once the support has been used, you will have to send CCHR a brief report explaining if it helped you and how. Depending on the nature of the request, this report may need to include photos or/and copies of receipts for all expenses paid for by CCHR.

CCHR reserves the right to ask you to repay the grant if the organization finds out that it has been used inappropriately or in relation to corruption.

For more information, please contact via e-mail or telephone (see contact above).
WHAT ARE FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS?

International law gives everybody the right to organize collectively (freedom of association), to organize public gatherings (freedom of assembly) and to express her/his opinion publicly (freedom of expression). The Royal Government of Cambodia must respect these rights and cannot cause troubles to anyone who exercises her/his fundamental freedoms.

WHAT IS THE PROTECTING FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS PROJECT AND WHO DOES IT SUPPORT?

This is a project run by CCHR to support people whose fundamental freedoms have been restricted or violated through criminal charges or other abuses by representatives of the law. This can include Human Rights Defenders (HRDs), journalists, trade unionists, lawyers, community/online/political activists, environmentalists, protestors, etc., but also groups or organizations as long as they act peacefully and are non-violent.

MY FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS HAVE BEEN VIOLATED OR RESTRICTED, HOW CAN THE PROJECT HELP ME?

The type of support given depends on the needs of each person. The Project runs a Fund that can help

HOW DO I APPLY?

Please send a request for support and a detailed explanation of your situation to CCHR Protecting